Multiple Exposures Gallery (MEG), a cooperative photography gallery located in the Torpedo Factory Art Center in Alexandria, Virginia, currently has two membership openings for which we are issuing an open call.

In January, we will host two informational and portfolio review sessions. Topics to be covered include: the benefits of MEG membership; roles and responsibilities of a MEG member; expectations for sales; displaying your work at MEG; the application and portfolio submission process and timeline; and "best practices" for submitting a portfolio for membership consideration. We'll also answer any and all questions you might have.

Session dates are:

Sunday, January 8th 10am – noon
Thursday, January 19th 7pm – 9pm

If you intend to apply, please email Alan@AlanSislenPhotography.com by February 1st, portfolios will be submitted to MEG by February 20th, and jurying for membership will take place on March 5, 2012.

If have any questions about this opportunity or would like to reserve a spot at an information session, please email Alan@AlanSislenPhotography.com with the date you prefer.
